Mrs. Maude Gertrude Weikert, 62, wife of Clarence M. Weikert, Gettysburg, R. 2, died Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the Warner Hospital where she had been admitted Tuesday morning suffering from a bullet wound in the head.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, listed the case as suicide and said Mrs. Weikert left a note in which she said she feared a stroke. Members of the family said Mrs. Weikert had been in a nervous condition for some time and had been under a physician's care since an operation in June.

Mrs. Weikert had prepared breakfast Tuesday morning and later was found wounded in the attic with a .22 calibre rifle at her side. Her death was the second sudden death in the family in less than a decade. A son, Earl, was fatally wounded crossing a fence while hunting in November, 1944.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO GIVE SAFETY AWARD OCT. 13

The guest appearance of Dr. Andrew S. Beshore, nationally-known speaker and humorist, will spotlight the program October 13 when the Exchange Club of Gettysburg will honor a local official with the National Honorary Safety Council Award for outstanding achievements in the promotion of traffic safety.

Plans for the remainder of the program based about the safety council award, further discussion of arrangements for Gettysburg's first Builders' Show, and guest speaker, Dr. James Martin's observations on the problems of U. S. Armed personnel in France occupied a major portion of the Exchange Club session Tuesday evening at Banker's Restaurant.

Brought to Gettysburg through the cooperation of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, Dr. Beshore is widely known for his interest in traffic safety and community problems.

Weaver Cited

The award presentation represents the second consecutive year that a Gettysburg citizen has been nationally honored by the Highway Safety Committee. Last year Burgess William G. Weaver was cited as this borough went through the year without a traffic fatality.

Two guests actively assisting in the completion of plans for the Builders' Show—to be held in the Hotel Gettysburg Annex October 29, 30, and 31—were introduced. They were Harold Miller, local salesman for Manufacturers' Light and Heat Company, and Edward Monahan, Cumberland, Md. Monahan, liaison operative between the Builders' and the gas company, revealed that a TV screen would soon be placed in the window of Manufacturers' Light and Heat advertising the show.

Three grand prizes will be presented on the final day of the Builders' Show—first prize consisting of a ten-cubic-foot deep freeze unit; a second prize of 100 gallons of fuel oil, and third, an aluminum set. Also in the planning stage is a baking contest between several of the more versatile Exchangeites. All spaces for the show have now been allocated.

Guest Speaker

Dr. Martin, only six weeks returned from duty at an air base outside Bordeaux, France, asserted his opinion that due to unstable economic conditions the average Frenchman will follow the political party best able to keep his stomach full—he is Communist or Allied.

"A very definite program of anti-American propaganda has been instigated by French Communists. Signs such as 'Americans, Go Home!' some splashed in sprawling letters across the roof and hoods

UNC Refuses Extension Of Time Limit To Quiz POWs

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists today refused the U. N. Command of stalling the start of explanations to war prisoners who refuse to go home and demanded an extension of the time limit.

The UNC flatly turned down the demand for more time and denied responsibility for the delay.

Allied and Communist teams were to begin meeting Sept. 26 with the prisoners in an attempt to persuade them to return home. Allied officers have 359 POWs—including 23 Americans—to interview while the Red agents will talk to some 22,500 North Koreans and Chinese.

A dispute over facilities has stalled the start of the interviews. The Allies insist the armistice agreement clearly spells out that the explanation period end Dec. 24, regardless of delays. The Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission said Tuesday he agreed with the U. S. stand.

May Start Next Week

There were indications that the interviews would get under way next week, provided the Allies finish temporary explanation facilities.

The Reds made the demand at a meeting of the Korean Armistice Commission and also:

SOME CLUBS MAY SLASH GIFT TO CHEST BY 90 PCT.

Some Gettysburg clubs, as a result of loss of revenue, will have to cut their donations to Community Chest as much as 90 percent, according to reports presented Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Association of Clubs held at the local Elks Lodge.

The reports were made during a lengthy discussion of the problem of "doing the best we can for the Community Chest." All present were agreed that the Community Chest donation should mark a major effort on the part of the clubs, but the financial picture drawn indicated that there will be sharp declines in the amount that can be given.

Some well established fraternal organizations held that, by taking from sums established during more prosperous periods, fairly substantial donations can be made. Others, caught with large debts for remodeling or building, held they could do little to help the Community Chest goal.

"Give 'til It Hurts"

Representatives of the lodges and clubs present at the meeting recommended to the various boards of directors of the clubs that the fraternal, social, veterans organizations donation be made as a group through the Gettysburg Association of Clubs to avoid embarrassment to those organizations having a difficult financial problem at the moment.

Charles Lauver, president of the association of clubs and also a director of Community Chest, urged the clubs to give every consideration toward the Chest "giving even though it does hurt." All were agreed to give as much as possible.

Next meeting of the Association of Clubs will be held in January at the local Eagles lodge. Election of officers for the coming year is scheduled for that session.

County's Participation In Air Raid Drill Tuesday Night Called "Successful"

The Gettysburg Fire Department is shown in action Tuesday night as it simulated the rescue of people from the top floor of the Wills building on Lincoln Square as part of the air raid drill. Ellis Smith Jr., on the top of the ladder, at the roof, is wearing a gas mask as protection from simulated fumes and talking via a "maskphone" to Chief Donald Jacobs, in white raincoat, at the foot of the ladder. (Lane Studio Photo)

"A most successful test" was the way County Civil Defense Director William G. Weaver today characterized Adams County's participation in the state-wide Air Raid drill held Tuesday evening.

Upwards of 2,000 Adams countyans took part in the event in various capacities, while others participated by taking shelter during the ten minutes of the "red alert."

"We really have something to be proud of in Adams County," Weaver said.

Throughout the county, state, local and auxiliary police and firemen gathered a few minutes before the scheduled red alert at 7:02 o'clock.

The firemen's Civil Defense FM radio network went into action at about 6:55 o'clock when Eugene Sickles, manning the central station here, asked all to "stand-by."

Firemen Stand By

Firemen, helmeted and wearing raincoats, were standing by ready for the planned incidents scheduled to follow the red alert. Auxiliary police, with their white Civil Defense arm bands, were moving to various assigned posts to halt traffic.

At 7:02 the flasher-buzzer air raid alarm system at the Gettysburg fire house, operated from the state-wide Civil Defense headquarters, flashed the red signal.

Sickles switched on the central radio station and announced: "Attention all companies. The red alert has been given." Simultaneously the local siren was sounded, and factory whistles joined the alarm. Over the radio system of the fire companies could be heard the sirens, bells and whistles in other communities joining the alarm.

Firemen Start Rescue

Before the raid alarm was given, Director Weaver told the firemen: "You are gathered in your fire engine houses now, but in the event of an actual raid, in all likelihood, most of you would be caught at home or elsewhere when the alarm sounded. The rule is to take to shelter wherever you are. Then when the all clear has sounded, go to your fire house to report for such activities as needed."

At 7:14 the all clear signal was sounded.

Almost immediately the Gettysburg firemen began moving equipment to Lincoln Square, for the incident there. Simulated was the destruction of the Masonic building by bombs, and weakening of the Wills house. There were persons caught under the fallen ruins of the Masonic building, according to the simulation, and people trapped on the third floor of the Wills structure.

Receive 300 Refugees

At the square firemen began throwing water at 7:16 p.m. The hoses were directed into the center plot. The aerial ladder was raised to the roof of the Wills building. New

HISTORIANS TO STUDY PROBLEM OF CEMETERIES

The Adams County Historical Society at its first fall meeting Tuesday evening at the court house decided to name a special committee to investigate a means of providing proper care and upkeep for a number of old cemeteries in the county described at the meeting as "wildernesses" and "jungles."

The question was brought before the historians in an anonymous letter that deplored the state of disrepair into which Pine Bank Cemetery, four miles south of here along Rock Creek, has fallen. Members present added Round Hill, where is the grave of "the strongest man that ever lived," a cemetery along the Low Dutch Rd. and a Latimore Twp. burial ground opposite Bushey's schoolhouse, to the list.

Education Discourse

Revolutionary and Civil War graves lie within some of these cemeteries, it was pointed out, and a question was raised about what responsibility the county commissioners may have for the upkeep of cemeteries where soldiers are interred. It was decided to appoint a committee to go into the matter and President George W. Baker announced.

named he will name the committee selections later.

About 25 attended the meeting and heard a paper by Homer N. Young on "College Education in Early Adams County." He came to the conclusion that there was an "unusual" college attendance by folk from this county in the last decade of the 18th and the first half of the 19th centuries.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh reported a number of acquisitions for the Museum committee including: Another John Abbott deed and a copy of the Abbottstown Bi-Centennial celebration program; a photo made in the National Cemetery October 15, 1890, showing the Count of Paris and a number of Union Generals here for the dedication of the New York monument; a souvenir booklet on the St. Francis Xavier cemetery and an old blueprint of the Evergreen Cemetery.

Dr. Fortenbaugh displayed an autograph album bearing entries between 1830 and 1840 and sent here for inspection by John P. Young, Ithaca, N. Y. The society will ask Mr. Young to donate the album for its collection. The album belonged to Amelia Caroline Harper of the family of Robert Goodlow Harper, former editor and publisher of the Star and Sentinel here. One of the entries was by Mr. Harper in his own hand writing.

Have 93 Members
At the request of Dr. Fortenbaugh, he was discharged as chairman of a committee named last year to propose historic sites here for marking by the state. A new committee is to be chosen.

Treasurer Harry T. Stauffer reported there are now 93 members in the society.

Miss Margaret McMillan, secretary, reported that the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists are interested in marking the boundaries of the Manor of Maske in this county.

Mr. Young was introduced by Dr. Frederick Tilberg, program chairman. The speaker presented in his paper a long list of names of early countians who attended Dickinson College at Carlisle in its early days, then a Presbyterian institution; Franklin College at Lancaster, Pennsylvania College here and Jefferson and Washington Colleges in southwestern Pennsylvania. He noted that Dr. Alexander Dobbins and Robert McPherson of this county were among the first directors of Dickinson College which was founded in 1783.

The remainder was approved August 11, by the PUC and was retroactive to May 1. The case involved over a year of hearings and study.

In this previous rate case, the PUC fixed the value of Manufacturers' Pennsylvania property at $70,000,000 as of March 31, 1952.

Since that time, Mr. Estep said, "the company has added about $6,500,000 to this value, primarily in enlargements and improvements."

"In its current filing, Manufacturers is asking consideration of its increased valuation, and a rate which will bring its return up to a 6½ percent level."

equipment provided by Ervin Houck, Hanover, was used. It was a Mask-phone, by which firemen wearing a gas mask on the aerial ladder can talk by voice-power phone to Fire Chief Donald Jacobs at the base of the ladder truck.

Firemen bearing stretchers went from the rescue truck into the Masonic building and returned with two "injured persons" who were given first aid at the rescue truck.

At the YWCA Attorney John McPhail, county Civil Defense Welfare chairman, set up headquarters to register 300 refugees headed to be pouring into the community from bombed out quarters elsewhere. The paper-work was carried out for registering the refugees and moving them to places for shelter and food throughout the town.

Radio For Help
Immediately after the all-clear McSherrystown radioed Centennial, Bruchtown, Irishtown and Bonneauville companies to aid in the handling of the problem caused by simulated destruction of a bombed area in McSherrystown.

Auxiliary police from the various companies routed traffic in McSherrystown, to clear the block. Bonneauville stood by at their fire house and the other companies hooked to plugs to pour water on the simulated blaze.

At Littlestown firemen also set up a mock fire as a test of their equipment. Bendersville and Aspers, using their radio to provide directions, established a 1,500-foot relay to throw water from a pond near the two communities.

Fairfield Problem
A Fairfield firemen posed the problem that all electric power had been cut off and that light was needed at the schoolhouse where people were gathering. Within five minutes after the all-clear, the firemen had moved to the school, cut off the lighting system, switched in emergency lighting equipment and had the lights burning in the building.

At Cashtown and other communities firemen took part in the air raid test by carrying out various drills and test runs.

County Fire Marshal John Murren, Centennial, was on duty at the central station here.

Amateur radio station W3KGN, operated by Walter B. Lane, was ready at Lane Studios to go on the air with messages to other amateur short wave stations in nearby communities to bring aid if needed, or report on needs elsewhere.

County Is Prepared
Weaver said that with the equipment and trained manpower available in the county "we seem as ready for an actual emergency as it is possible to be. No one knows, however, what would happen in an emergency until it occurs."

A number of local residents turned out their lights during the red alert and some called the fire house to ask whether they should put out their lights.

Weaver said that, as a result of modern radar equipment, officials no longer require "blackouts" for air raids. Even in an actual bombing there would be no blackout unless power was needed elsewhere or there was a power failure. The lights ordinarily will continue burning to allow people to find shelter or carry on such duties as necessary.

GAS COMPANY

Mr. Estep added, "And unless it can show sound earnings, it would be impossible to raise the amounts needed."

For the average heating customer, Thursday's residential rate filing will mean an increase of about $25.80 a year. The monthly heating minimum charge will go from $2 to $2.50.

The average non-heating customer will pay about 70¢ more a month, with the monthly minimum charge to go from $1.25 to $1.50.

Today's industrial filing will have a varying effect on Manufacturers' 200 industrial customers, depending on how much gas they use.

The company filed for its last residential rate increase in June 1952, and was granted approximately half of the $4,245,000 requested last January.

The remainder was approved August 11, by the PUC and was retroactive to May 1. The case involved over a year of hearings and study.

In this previous rate case, the PUC fixed the value of Manufacturers' Pennsylvania property at $70,000,000 as of March 31, 1952.

With most of the taxes turned in by Collector William Ogden Mr. Martin said the balance in the borough's general fund, approximately $1,900, is scarcely enough to pay bills presented at the Thursday evening session. The balance in the special fund, used for the retirement of bonds and the payment of interest charges, is $143.79, the treasurer said.

Not all the bills presented were approved by the finance committee, some being held over until next month in the hope that by that time the financial situation will improve.

Couple Is Married: Miss Ida V. Gordon and Granville Inskip, both of Hampton, motored to Westminster Thursday morning, and after securing a license at the court house, were married in St. Paul's Reformed parsonage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. N.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

CAPITALISTS
We hear a great deal these days about "the capitalists," applying it to those of great wealth, or those who command and guide great enterprises in which is invested great wealth. The real capitalist, however, is the man with brains. A goodly portion of our great so-called capitalists started out with nothing but their brains as capital! The late Henry Ford started out his automobile company without even investing a single dollar in it. His capital was his ideas and brains. Others put up the money against what he had in his head—and all became millionaires, and Ford a billionaire! The same procedure was followed by Edison. He would not sooner evolve an invention than he would sell it and take the money to help develop new inventions. His sole capital was what he carried around in his head.

A few there are today who listened rapturously to that famous lecture by Russell Conwell which he called "Acres of Diamonds." He told story after story of those who started out in life with nothing as capital but what they had above their neck, and with what they had been born.

Brain capital is the essential in every enterprise worth its salt. Ideas are capital. Health is capital. Ambition is capital. Enthusiasm is capital. Honesty is capital. Will power is capital. The free mind in a free world is capital. The little acorn grows to the great oak. All nature is a witness to the birth and growth of capital.

Without the capitalists of mind where could there have been a nation like the United States? The humblest worker is a potential capitalist! No nation can regiment its workers and thinkers and expect long to survive as great. A study of history is proof of this fact. Where minds are free there is growth. There are enterprise and prosperity among all. There are hope and security. Honor the brain that you bear. No other capital can become so great or useful.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "That Inherent Desire."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WORRY

They tell us not to worry, but the debtor ought to fret
And worry just a little 'til the day he pays his debt.
Since the simplest task's important, one should worry just a bit,
For the fellow that's indifferent isn't fit to trust with it.

They say that worry's needless and at times that may be true,
But a worrier works better when there's something he can do.
If the thought of failure frets him when he has to face a test,
If he feels the spur of worry he will try to do his best.

The man who never worries never very greatly cares.
Never a long of far he'll carry any burden that he bears.
Ask any wise employer and he'll tell you this is true:
Only worriers can be trusted with a task that's hard to do.

Community Building Is Shoe Factory Again

The Fairfield Shoe Co. is shown operating at one of its two "temporary plants" set up to permit resumption of work while the firm is rebuilding its plant destroyed by fire some months ago. The scene shown is Fairfield Community Center where shoe making machinery has been installed. A similar use is to be made of the Memorial Auditorium at the South Mountain Fairgrounds where machines are being installed for temporary use. Shoe company officials noted that the installation of the machines in the Fairfield Community center puts the company back where it started a number of years ago. When the original plant was being constructed the community center was turned into a plant for the making of shoes. (Lane Studio Photo) least worth a try.

Another circumstance under which Russia could very likely get Western assurances of Germany's future peaceful behavior would be in the event a German unification plan and peace treaty were concluded. In fact, some officials advocate offering a nonaggression guarantee only as part of a package deal with Russia on Germany.
Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday that "the general problem of giving re-assurance against the possible resurgence of German aggression is a matter which is being studied" by the United States in consultation with the British, French and West German governments.

Dulles said this government is urgently trying to find new ways to remove points of friction with the Soviet government in this hydrogen bomb age.
But Dulles emphasized that as anxious as the United States is to find ways of living with Russia, it is not interested in making meaningless agreements and is not considering any kind of nonaggression assurance other than one concerned with Germany—with guarantees regarding Korea and Austria as future possibilities if the Kremlin shows any interest.

Chances Of Dethroning Yanks And Dodgers Next Year Are Not Very Bright; Series Gives Hope

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Offhand, prospects for dethroning the world champion New York Yankees and National League-ruling Brooklyn Dodgers do not appear overly bright. However, rival major league managers detected a ray of hope in the recently concluded World Series.

Except for two of the six games, the series indicated strongly that both the Yankees and Dodgers must improve their pitching to successfully defend their titles. Only four of the 12 starting hurlers were able to go the route. Eddie Lopat and Preacher Roe did it in the second game and Vic Raschi and Carl Erskine in the third.

Erskine is the only one of this quartet who figures to duplicate or better his 1953 record. The others are past 35 and cannot be counted on to be more than once-a-week starters. So is Allie Reynolds, the Yankee ace, who has the added handicap of an aching back. The strong-armed right-hander, worried by his recurring muscular spasms, may decide not to come back at all next year.

Expect To Repeat In '54

Every big league manager but three—Charlie Grimm, Paul Richards and Lou Boudreau—attended the series. Not all stayed to the very end. Leo Durocher left the second game, Eddie Stanky left the third game to attend an organizational meeting. Before he departed Stanky declared his Cardinals as well as the Giants, Phillies and Braves would have to improve by 20 percent to overtake the Dodgers. Cleveland Manager Al Lopez admitted his Indians could not catch the Yankees with the present personnel.

Managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers are confident they will repeat next year but admit they are worried about their club's pitching. "This same team with some added pitching could win it again in 1954," Dressen said. "The others must get a lot stronger. We're strong in every department but pitching."

Yanks Pitching Worries

"We have a good enough team to win the pennant again next year," Dressen said, "but we want something more than that. We will trade with anybody who will trade with us."

Stengel frankly is afraid that Reynolds, Raschi, Lopat and John Sain may fold next year. In fact the only pitcher he is satisfied with is a big winner again is Whitey Ford, his young southpaw. He is hopeful that Steve Kraly, up from Birmingham; Tom Morgan, now in the Army; Bob Weisler of Kansas City; and Jim McDonald, a hold-over, will form the nucleus of a new mound staff.

Starters are expected to include: Ends, Wherley and Gary Kofer; tackles, Re and Glenn Naugle; guards, Fred Naugle and Scott; center, Hess; backs, Little, Kim Kefer, Washington and Baltzley.

ED LOPAT OWNS TWO OF LOOP'S MOUND HONORS

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Lopat, who made one of baseball's strongest comebacks, captured two of the American League's most coveted pitching honors for 1953—in earned runs and winning percentage.

Statistics compiled by The Associated Press showed today that the 35-year-old New York Yankee left-hander, hampered by a sore arm during much of the '52 campaign, paced the American League with a 2.43 earned run average. He permitted only 48 earned runs in 178 innings.

Lopat signed a conditional contract before the season, but he came through handsomely. He won 16 games and dropped only 4 for a winning mark of .800—topping it off with a World Series victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in the second game. Eddie is the first American League pitcher to lead in earned runs and win-loss percentage the same year since Spud Chandler did it in 1943.

Spain In National

In the National League, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, another southpaw, was the circuit's earned run leader with a 2.10 mark, the lowest since Howie Pollet compiled the same average with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946.

Spahn, one of the key men in the surprising showing of the Braves this year, allowed 62 earned tallies in 266 innings. He won 23 games and lost 7 (.767). Brooklyn's Carl Erskine was the top man in winning percentage with .769, on a 20-6 record.

No One Else Close

Neither earned run pacesetter had much competition. Chicago's Billy Pierce was runner-up to Lopat in the American League with a 2.72 ERA and Virgil Trucks, also of the White Sox, was third at 2.93.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, a 23-game winner, was second in the National League with 2.75 followed by Bob Buhl of the Braves, 3.00, and Harvey Haddix of the Cards, 3.06.

Daily Double Pays $6,626.40 At Bel Air

BEL AIR, Md. (AP)—Three long-shot bettors were well paid for their optimism yesterday. They hit a daily double combination here which paid $6,626.40, the seventh largest on record in U. S. racing and Maryland's second largest.

The jackpot payoff came on Cocco, winner of the first race at $48.60 for $2, and Lano Barto, winner of the second at $73.60 for $2. One of the winners, a woman, said she bet them because she liked the numbers, 10 and 3. The other two were men. They bet on the jockeys, Bernie Hewitt in the first and Russell Stein in the second.

Maryland's highest daily double is $6,754.40 paid at Bowie in November of 1938. The national record is $10,772.40 paid at Washington, Park Aug. 14 the following year.

STAN HACK RE-HIRED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stan Hack, who has piloted the Los Angeles baseball club for the past three years, was rehired today to lead the Angels in the 1954 Pacific Coast League pennant race.

Hack's club was a surprising third place finisher in 1953, despite so-so material. He led the Angels to third place in 1951, sixth in 1952.

SUIT INVOLVES TV RIGHTS ON FIGHT IN 1936

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury has been asked to decide if radio and motion pictures rights to a heavyweight fight granted seven years ago should include television also.

The jury also sat in as judges yesterday for the 1936 fight between Joe Louis and Al Ettore. Ettore, now a steelworker in Nearby Morrisville, Pa., has brought a $200,000 damage suit against Philco Television Broadcasting Corp. and the Chesbrough Manufacturing Co., Ltd., of New York. The trial opened here yesterday.

Hadn't Heard Of TV

The former heavyweight boxer claims that televised movies of the fight, won by Louis on a KO in the fifth round, were shown without his consent and held him up to ridicule. They were shown in December of 1949 and in 1950 over station WPTZ, then operated by Philco. Chesbrough sponsored the program.

Ettore claims the edited TV version left out his best round. The jury sat for 28 minutes yesterday watching sound films on the complete fight and also the televised version. Ettore said he had sold radio and moving pictures rights to the bout but "never heard of television at that time."

ROY MUNDORFF RESIGNS POST AT LOUISVILLE

Roy "Punk" Mundorff, son of Mrs. Emma Mundorff, 69 W. Middle St., resigned Tuesday as athletic director of the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky.

Mundorff, who graduated from Gettysburg College in 1921 where he was an outstanding basketball and baseball star, was named to the Louisville post two years ago as part of a program to boost the school into the ranks of big-time football.

Following his graduation from college, Mundorff accepted a position as mathematics instructor and basketball coach at Georgia Tech. He remained there until World War II when he entered the Navy and for a time was teaching under the Navy V-12 program at Harvard University. At the conclusion of the war he returned to Georgia Tech. During his tenure at Tech he also served as assistant athletic director.

Mrs. Mundorff and two daughters, Mrs. Bert Widder, W. Middle St., and Mrs. David Blum, Reading, and son, Guy Mundorff, Bremerton, Wash., are now visiting the Mundorffs in Louisville.

Leon Hardeman, star left halfback, on Georgia Tech's unbeaten and untied team, averaged 5.5 yards per carry last season.

Georgia Tech Guard Is Lineman Of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Franklin Brooks, a sophomore guard at Georgia Tech, was named today as the lineman of the week in the first Associated Press poll of the 1953 collegiate football season.

Other nominees included Dick Deltrick, Pittsburgh end, a stand-out as the Panthers held Oklahoma to a 7-7 tie. He caught four forward passes and continually harassed the Oklahoma quarterback.

Guard Jack Cannon, Penn., and end Jim Garrity, Penn State, were cited as outstanding in Penn's 13-7 win over the Nittany Lions.

BOSPHOROUS IS SWAM TWICE BY MISS CHADWICK

THERAPIA, Turkey (AP)—Florence Chadwick added to her swimming honors today by swimming the tricky Bosphorus from Europe to Asia and then back to Europe.

The 33-year-old typist from San Diego, Calif., was timed officially in one hour, 14 minutes, 7 seconds. She plunged into the water at Sariyer Point on the European shore. The widest point across the 1½ mile Bosphorus was chosen in order that the test "would not be too easy" for Miss Chadwick.

She conquered the English Channel twice and only last Sept. 20 astonished Spanish swimming experts by swimming the channel of the Straits of Gibraltar, famous for its tricky currents. For this feat the Spanish dubbed her the "Iron Woman."

May Swim Hellespont
She next plans to swim the Hellespont, now known as the Dardanelles.

Her body was not greased and she took no nourishment as she does during longer crossings. She dabbed her neck lightly with vaseline because her bathing cap had rubbed, that's all.

Miss Chadwick suffered a bad bruise on her right leg from her ankle to her knee when she tumbled to the bottom of the guide boat as she was being assisted in after her swim.

But she said it wouldn't interfere with her plans to make a roundtrip crossing of the Dardanelles Thursday.

TWO POSTPONEMENTS

North York defeated Spring Grove 3-2 in the only York-Adams County Scholastic Soccer League game played Tuesday. Two other games, East Berlin at Dover, and Northern Joint at Manchester, were postponed until today due to inclement weather.

WINS FIRST PLACE

Gil Turner Heavy Favorite Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Philadelphia's Gil Turner, biding his time while waiting for another shot at the welterweight championship, is a top-heavy choice to trim Italo Scorticini in their 10-round bout in Olympia Stadium tonight.

Turner, ranked No. 2 in the welter division, is being quoted as a 4-1 to 6-1 favorite for the nationally televised fight.

Harry Cleaver Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cleaver, East Berlin R. 1, won an "outstanding achievement" award at the annual Industrial Arts Projects exposition conducted by the Ford Motor Company. A gold pin and certificate were presented to the East Berlin High School freshman by Lavere A. Breighner, industrial arts teacher at the high school. Cleaver's project was a plastic table lamp made in the high school shop.

FASHION SHOW ADDED TO GRID CARD IN PHILA.

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP)—Villanova Athletic Director Ambrose (Bud) Dudley has come up with a new promotion idea to make Philadelphia's Villanova-conscious.

The man who filled Philadelphia's huge Municipal Stadium last month for the Villanova-Georgia football game through a deal with the American Stores Co., is going to stage a ladies night and fashion show between halves of the Villanova-Detroit game Oct. 1 at Connie Mack Stadium.

Dudley figures the idea will help show Villanova's appreciation for the support the ladies gave the grocery promotion.

A local department store has agreed to furnish 20 lovely models to strut the new fall and winter styles. All ladies will be admitted at a special low rate.

"They'll be able to see the game for one dollar," Dudley explained. "They'll get a fashion show and maybe an opportunity to meet some handsome collegians."

And if his Wildcats haven't improve their record by then (they've lost their first three games), he figures the models might attract a few male fans, too.

Ideas Work Out
For the Georgia game, the American Stores chain bought some 60,000 tickets. They gave a free ticket with each $10 purchase of food. The game drew 97,802 fans.

The game grossed approximately $70,000. Normally, Villanova could have expected less than a third of that.

The idea behind these promotion schemes, Dudley said, is to build up a local following for the Villanova football team. The Wildcats have played most of their games on the road in past years and have drawn poorly for their few local appearances.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two more mergers involving Philadelphia and suburban banks have been announced.

The Philadelphia National Bank will merge with the First National Bank of Lansdale, Montgomery County. The Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. will combine with the First National Bank of Chester, Delaware County.

Directors of the banks have already approved the mergers. Stockholders approval is still needed. Lansdale shareholders will receive two shares of Philadelphia National for three shares of First National. Chester shareholders will get one share of Fidelity for two of the Chester bank.

Bernard Hewitt, Adams County professional jockey, played a part in the $6,626.40 daily double payoff at Bel Air, Md., Tuesday, the daily double being the second largest in the history of Maryland racing.

One woman and two men were reported to have held the three winning tickets, Nos. 10 and 3.

Bubblers Host To Unbeaten Tigers

The Boiling Springs High School Bubblers will face their stiffest grid opposition of the year Saturday evening when the Tigers of New Cumberland High School roar into "Bubbletown" for a game at 3:30 o'clock.

Bill Dittmar's Tigers are undefeated this year and have one of the most powerful teams in the Central Pennsylvania section. In their first game, the Tigers were slow in getting started; but they began to roll in the second half of that game and rolled over Enola by a 33 to 0 score. The following week they won with ease over Lower Paxton by a 34 to 13 score. Last week the Tigers really showed their strength when they defeated a very strong Jersey Shore team by a 21 to 20 score.

Bud Ecker's Bubblers have come along fast, but it is doubtful that they have come far enough yet to handle such a veteran team. They will have to play far better ball than they have displayed thus far if they hope to make a game of it against the New Cumberland team. After losing to Camp Hill 13 to 0, and Hummelstown 7 to 6, the Bubblers have defeated Enola 20 to 12 and Biglerville 7 to 0.

An added attraction for the spectators will be the crowning of the Queen of Football at Boiling Springs High School at 8:15.

MORE PREMIUMS FOR FARM SHOW

In providing a record $55,912 in cash premium offerings at the 1954 Pennsylvania Farm Show to be held next January 11-15, the Farm Show Commission has set the stage for what may prove to be the biggest event of its kind in Farm Show history.

According to Miles Horst, state secretary of agriculture and commission chairman, the higher premium payments reflect progress in Keystone state agriculture. They also are designed to encourage farmers to provide a greater number of quality products in competition for awards, he added.

The 1954 Farm Show is to emphasize exhibits and activities related to the rural home. Statewide farm organizations, rural school displays and demonstrations, and commercial exhibits will feature the rural home theme in various ways, Secretary Horst explained.

The 148-page premium list is now available to prospective competitive exhibitors of Pennsylvania farm products. Copies may be obtained from any county farm agent or direct from Farm Show Commission, Farm Show Building, Harrisburg. It lists a record total of

NATIONAL APPLE WEEK OCT. 22-31

Pennsylvania apple growers, retail grocery stores, fruit markets, restaurants and hotels will cooperate in observance of National Apple Week, October 22 through 31, according to the state Department of Agriculture.

Apple production this year in the state is estimated at 4,428,000 bushels which gives Pennsylvania fifth place among all the states, the department said. The 1953 crop is smaller than usual, being eight per cent under 1952 output of 4,590,000 bushels and only two-thirds of the 10-year 1942-51 average for the state. Wet weather at blossom time is held largely responsible for the short crop this year. Hot and dry weather in late August and early September prevented apples in many orchards from attaining good size but the quality is expected to be high in winter varieties now being picked.

In spite of the less-than-average 9,872 separate cash awards for placings in the 24 different departments of the exposition.

Except for some divisions of the poultry department, all farm exhibits must be grown or raised in Pennsylvania, a custom that has been observed since the first Farm Show was held in 1917, Horst said.

SHOWERS LED IN FFA SCORING

Ted Showers was high scorer for the Biglerville Future Farmers of America in the team contests held as part of the FFA day events at the South Mountain Fairgrounds, it was announced today.

Team results were based on the scoring of the 10 youths selected from each school as their representatives among the 40 or 50 that have taken part in the various events from each school. As a result the final results by team were not reported until a complete count could be made by FFA officials of each student's score in all events.

Biglerville's team was fifth in the team scoring among 11 high schools from Adams and Franklin Counties. Showers had a total score of 182.7. The team score was 1241.4 points.

Gerald Lauver was second high man on the team with 175.9 points and Paul Howerly nosed out Donald Trostle for third place in the Biglerville team score with 165.8 points. Trostle had 165.7 points. The other members of the team and their scores included: Paul Harmon, 99.2; Glenn Rex, 96.8; Kenneth Miller, 93.9; Harry Hartman, 88.9; Kenneth Pitzer, 88.1 and Harold Mansberger, 84.4.

Upper Adams Lions Cleared Over $2,000

The Upper Adams Lions Club cleared just over $2,000 with its food stand at the South Mountain Fair, reports presented to the club Tuesday evening at a regular meeting in the community building at Biglerville. Sixty-seven attended with President John Kleinfelter presiding.

Pvt. Edgar Gallagher of the Pennsylvania State Police showed a film on highway safety titled "Courtesy Is Contagious." The program was arranged by the club's Safety committee headed by Harold Smallwood.

The next meeting will be held October 20 and David Bushman heads the committee in charge.

The decision was handed down after an investigation of nine months into the reasonableness of the proposed rate boost. The commission sustained formal complaints filed by the city of Scranton and the Throop school district.

The utility serves 88,000 customers in Lackawanna, Luzerne, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming Counties. The proposed increase would have applied to all consumers except 5,500 in the utility's Abington district.

The commission said a pending merger of Scranton Electric with the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., Allentown, had no bearing on the rate decision.

The commission found the utility was entitled to $10,859,099 annual gross earnings on the basis of 1952 operations or substantially the same amount produced by present rates. The commission found further the proposed rates would have

FARM CALENDAR

Cattle Feeders To Meet—A steer feeders' field day will be held in the Lancaster Stock Yards, Friday. Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist, announces a demonstration of the grades of cattle bought and sold daily. Livestock marketing authorities will speak on the afternoon program.

Check Egg Equipment—In the interest of accuracy, egg scales and egg graders should be checked occasionally, reminds Kermit Birth, Penn State extension marketing specialist. Individual eggs must meet minimum weight requirements or the whole case will put in a lower grade even though the net weight of the case is correct.

Keep Pigs Growing—The hog business is not profitable unless pigs keep growing from the time they are farrowed until they are ready for market, says Dwight Younkin, Penn State extension livestock specialist. The heavier the pigs are at birth and at weaning time, the earlier they will reach market weight.

Save Leaves—If you burn leaves or other plant foliage that is not diseased, you are destroying a good source of organic matter or humus for your soil. Penn State extension garden specialists suggest making a compost pile or digging the foliage into the soil.

Collect Soil—Soil for use in hotbeds and coldframes next spring should be collected now. Then it can be sterilized for control of diseases and insects which might cause trouble for next year's plants.

Clean Equipment—Clean all shelter, brooders, and range equipment this fall and save traffic on the range next spring when the ground may be soft, urges Carl Dossin, Penn State extension poultry specialist.

Grains Are Popular—Pennoll winter wheat and Kenbar winter barley are growing in popularity. More than half of the wheat certified in Pennsylvania this year was Pennoll, and more than a quarter of the barley certified was Kenbar. Both were named and released in 1951.

Keep Heifers Growing—Yearling dairy heifers should be kept in good thrifty condition, according to Robert Olmstead, Penn State extension dairy specialist. If pastures are poor, he suggests some supplemental feed, such as hay or silage, and in extreme cases, some grain will be needed by animals in poor condition.

Care for Chicks—Baby chicks started in the fall need good housing and plenty of floor space, reminds F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist. The house must be draft-free and have a simple ventilating system. Floor space is important, because overcrowding will mean poor, uneven growth and may cause disease problems.

Buy Bargain Eggs—With pullets in production, small and medium eggs are more plentiful now than large eggs. Kermit Birth, Penn State extension marketing specialist, says the smaller eggs, therefore, are better buys for the price than the scarcer large eggs.

Prepare to Plant—Prepare soil for bulbs by applying 5-10-5 at the rate of 2 pounds to 100 square feet, and thoroughly mix the fertilizer with the soil by spading or rototilling, directs John Meszaros, Penn State extension floriculturist.

Mow the Lawn—Set the mower to cut at least 1 1/2 inches high and continue mowing as long as grass grows this fall. Long grass may smother during winter, says Albert Cooper, Penn State extension agronomist.

DENY BOOST IN ELECTRIC RATE

HARRISBURG — The Public Utility Commission has denied a $1,179,000 annual rate increase to the Scranton Electric Co.

The commission, in unanimously rejecting the company's application for the 12 per cent increase, ruled on Monday the company was earning a fair return on its investment under present rates.

production of apples this year there should be plenty available during National Apple Week, observers said. The observance comes at a time when harvesting is at its peak and closes on Halloween where apples and fresh cider are traditional for serving at parties. October 31 is to be observed as National Apple Day.

My Daze

PEOPLE . . . Trying to write this column while listening to the World Series. . . In case I don't make sense, that's the reason. . . Dillsburg Farm Supply Co. has the outest little International tractor sitting on the floor. It's about seven inches high and is powered by a small electric motor, with a remote control. . . Had me a "crazy" time playing with the thing. . . Grove Hess informs us that he's running a sale on them right now. Just the thing for the kids at home. . . You can thank Roy Hartman for those Heinz pickles you get with your Farmers' Day Booster tickets. . . Roy got the idea, then went to see the Heinz Co. and they kicked in with the miniature pickles. . . Funny how the streets and pavements are deserted—while everyone has his ears or eyes glued to TV or radio, watching or listening to the World Series. . . The two "Earls"—Robson and Karns—look less piqued these last few days, now that all the details of Farmers' Day are attended to. . . You can look for the Dill Pickle any day now. . . Oughta be out today! . . .

THE ORGANIZATIONS . . . Walter Burke advises us that the Greater Dillsburg Athletic League will meet today to formulate plans for the coming season. Last year they organized the Junior Basketball League and the kids had the time of their lives playing the game. This year, they will have some crackjack players due to the fact that the lads have a year's experience under their belts. . . Congrats to the J.C.C.'s on their recent amateur program at the Community Hall. . . Have heard it as a howling success, with Sam Jones as M.C. . .

BIRTHDAZE . . . Happy B. to Michael S. Bentz, Fred Pennnewell, Gerald R. Fleming, Frances E. Linden, Cheryl Weaver, Mrs. John Morris, Thomas G. Cooke 3rd, Mrs. Gretina Boring . . . and see yuh later. . . HH.

EXCHANGE CLUB

of our automobiles are not the least unusual," he said.

In like vein he told of receiving the "shock of my life" one evening as he stepped into a shower only to find that someone had wired the electricity to the water pipes. . . . "The Communist tries in every way to make the American feel as uncomfortable as possible."

Dr. Martin, a Mummaburg Rd. resident, described the city of Bordeaux as a hotbed of Communist agitation. He deplored the lack of protection given Army personnel, but jokingly noted that Special Services were doing their bits by supplying baseball bats in great quantity.

Misleading commentary by reporters and senatorial investigating commissions that U. S. personnel stationed in France "never had it so good" also drew fire from Dr. Martin. Stating a personal example, he told of living for a long time in a leaking tent which had been condemned seven years before and for which he was charged $90 a month. "American G.I.s in France probably had less than any other U. S. soldiers stationed in continental Europe and the Mediterranean areas," he said.

Dr. Martin's job as Air Force veterinarian combined inspection of live and dead food sources with technical advice on the sanitation of hospitals, bakeries, and mess halls.

Arrangements have been completed for local representation at the State Regional Board of Control meeting of Exchange Clubs at Caledonia Manor, October 17. S. L. (Tommy) Thompson will be guest speaker. Nominated to the local Board of Control were C. Woodie Crouse, Glenn C. Gulse and Ernest Unger.

ARMY SUSPENDS LAB WORKERS AS BAD RISKS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced last night the suspension for security reasons of an undisclosed number of persons at its Signal Corps laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

It declined to give details. The Chicago Tribune press service said that among five persons suspended were two "top scientists engaged in the development of America's radar defenses against enemy attack."

The Tribune did not disclose the source of information for its copyrighted story, but said the Army's investigation stemmed from an inquiry by the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Had Access To Secrets
The Chicago Tribune account said those suspended included "two other scientific workers and a clerical employee, similarly employed in top secret military work."

"All five men . . . have had access for years to this country's defense secrets in the electronics field," the Tribune said in a dispatch from Washington written by Willard Edwards.

The Army, in a brief statement, disclosed no names and did not specify the security charges. "These employees," it said, "have been given letters of charges stating the reasons for their suspension. They have the right within 30 days after the receipt of the charges to request a hearing before a security hearing board."

Ordered By Stevens
The Chicago Tribune said the suspensions "were personally ordered" by Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

The Tribune account continued: "Thirty employees at Ft. Monmouth, in addition to those suspended, are under investigation on security grounds. A number of these will be questioned by the McCarthy committee."

"Several figures in the Rosenberg case will be involved in the inquiry. There are definite links between the former atomic spy ring and those under investigation in the present investigation." Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were electrocuted earlier this year after being convicted of having delivered atomic secrets to Soviet espionage agents.
